THE UNDERGROUND MAN

An adaptation by Nick Wood of Mick Jackson's award winning novel
A life of fascination, obsession and deep scientific curiosity

William John Cavendish-Scott-Bentinck is an eccentric English aristocrat whose imagination and curiosity know no bounds. This deceptively simple man struggles to come to terms with a world that is teeming with new knowledge, ill-founded opinion and gossip. Why does he hide himself away? What is his fascination with tunnels? Will he ever unearth the secrets hidden inside his memory? In a sequence of events that are often curious and frequently hilarious he reveals surprising perception and wisdom.

Nottingham Playhouse and ajtc have combined their talents to co-produce an adaptation of Mick Jackson's Booker shortlisted novel.

'Soaked through with originality and expertly written tragic-comic fiction with the most endearingly sympathetic of anti-heroes' The Times

The Underground Man is a free-flowing, innovative performance featuring live music and a specially commissioned score.

A delectable blend of fact and fiction exploring the intricacies of a complex life through the vibrant imagination of a gentle soul.
